

“All Shall Be Well”

Julian lived more than 500 years ago in Norwich, a village in England. She lived alone in a small cottage attached to a church. She prayed and listened to people share their problems. Blessed Julian of Norwich wrote a book called Sharings. In it she speaks of her deep trust in God.

From one of her experiences of God Julian tells us about the goodness of creation. She uses the example of something very small – a hazelnut.

Julian saw this as a sign of hope. How are the following signs of hope for you?

- A robin is a sign of hope to me because _____
_____
- Flowers are signs of hope to me because _____
_____
- A baby is a sign of hope to me because _____
_____

“A hazelnut is important simply because God made it.

Because God made it,
God loves it.

Because God loves it,
God protects it.”
